13 April 2022

Dear Parents, Guardians & Community members,

Spring Break is right around the corner, from April 18-22. The central office will have staff most days. If you are hoping to meet with someone at the GISU during the break week, I encourage you to schedule an appointment.

If you are traveling and need rapid antigen tests for your children, we have them at school. Please reach out to the school's health assistant any time if you need a testing kit. Kits are available for students who have symptoms or even as a surveillance measure for students who are asymptomatic. I encourage everyone to get a test kit this week and take a test before returning to school just to be on the safe side. Remember if you have any symptoms of illness you should stay home, even if you test negative for Covid-19.

We are seeing regular cases of Covid-19 in schools (as well as other illnesses). The guidelines require isolation after testing positive for Covid-19. It is strongly encouraged and appreciated that anyone who returns to school after testing positive and isolating the required period wears a facial covering for 5 days to help slow the spread of the virus.

If you are looking for the 2022-2023 school year calendar it is here.
